

"Virtual Realities": This series of video and virtual reality (VR) installations will explore the paradoxical nature of technology's role in both connecting and isolating individuals within society. Through immersive experiences that blur the boundaries between physical and virtual worlds, viewers

Connection to the Artistic Community:

Expand on your desire to reach a broader artistic community. Discuss any past experiences where your work has resonated with audiences and how you envision expanding this reach during and after the residency. Consider mentioning any plans for exhibitions, collaborations, or public engagements.

Each of these projects aims to push the boundaries of traditional artistic practices while fostering critical dialogue about the complex relationship between technology and society. I am eager to further discuss these concepts and collaborate with your organization to bring them to fruition.

artist with a passion for creating visually stunning content. Seeking a challenging role where I can leverage my technical skills and artistic flair to contribute to innovative projects.

The chosen residency space will serve as a canvas for my site-specific interventions. These interventions will not merely occupy space but engage with it in a dynamic way, transcending traditional boundaries. Through [describe the nature of interventions, e.g., interactive installations, audio-visual experiences], I aim to transform the physical space into an immersive and thought-provoking environment.

As a Sudanese artist born and raised in Jordan, my work is deeply influenced by the rich tapestry of cultures and experiences that have shaped my identity. Drawing from my Sudanese heritage, my Jordanian upbringing, and the myriad of cultural influences that have surrounded me, I seek to explore themes of identity, belonging, and cultural hybridity through my art.

As a Sudanese artist born in Jordan, I draw from diverse cultural influences to explore the depths of identity and belonging. Through painting, sculpture, and multimedia, I delve into the rich tapestry of tradition and modernity, inviting viewers to embark on a journey of introspection and cultural hybridity. My work is imbued with the emotional complexities of my personal journey, serving as a mirror to my innermost thoughts and feelings. By celebrating diversity and nurturing empathy, I aim to create art that resonates on a profound emotional level, bridging gaps between cultures and illuminating the shared human experience.
